

My favourite films of 2011. Not all were released last year (I rediscovered John Boorman's 1981 classic take on the Arthurian legend in Excalibur for example as well as the original Tron from 1982) . Tangled was a charming film. I was terrified by Buried and shocked by The Loved Ones and The Woman. Enjoyed Sucker Punch and strangely The Ward. The last Harry Potter was well worth the admission price as indeed was the gripping and beautiful Black Sawn. Anyway the list is here...
